

Dear entrepreneurs,

We all know that the entrepreneurship road is never easy, and Cyberport has been dedicating our resources and efforts to support our start-ups. Lately, there are many encouraging and exciting news about their big move. We are so proud that Cyberport Start-ups are being recognised in the market!

GOGOVAN announced merger with 58 Suyun

GOGOVAN, our CCMF and Incubation Programme alumnus, has recently announced its merger with 58 Suyun (58 速運), the freight business of mainland Chinese online classified giant 58 Home. Leveraging 58 Suyun's large users base and geographic coverage of over 100 Chinese cities, GOGOVAN has reached new heights in its entrepreneurial journey, accelerating its growth in other Asia markets to be Asia's largest online platform in the intra-city logistics and freight business.

Founded in 2013, and joining Cyberport in the same year as a CCMF grantee, GOGOVAN started off with just HKD20K. The team had successfully transformed the traditional logistics landscape, and grew into a regional company with presence in Mainland, Taiwan, Singapore, Korea and India.

During the press conference, Steven Lam, Co-founder and CEO of GOGOVAN, mentioned about the great support that he had received from Cyberport over the years. (Highlight of news coverage such as Apple Daily, TVB news, Hong Kong Economic Journal and South China Morning Post)

We are glad to see that our efforts in cultivating the entrepreneurial spirit has helped to springboard the Cyberport start-ups to success. We are proud to have you being part of our vibrant community. We hope you feel the same way too.

Do keep us posted on updates of your business growth. We look forward to hearing more exciting announcement soon!
